

Circles of Engagement

In our January newsletter, page 7, there was an explanation of “Volunteers First” and the idea of “Circles of Engagement.” At our January meeting, we asked our members to focus discussion on why we joined AAUW and what keeps us here.

We learned that some primary reasons include invitation, opportunity to meet new friends, to interact with educated women, to have social opportunities, and because of the AAUW mission. Using these focus factors, think about those people you know who might be interested in joining us - and then invite them!

TIPS FOR REDUCING PLASTICS

Thank you to Lisa Swanson for sharing her interesting and informative “Journey of Environmental Activism” at our January meeting.

The following tips are important ways we can each make a difference in our own environmental journeys.

1. Choose reusable! This includes items such as tupperware, water bottles, utensils, and coffee mugs.
2. Consider switching out your food storage routine. Instead of plastic wrap and plastic bags, try using glass containers, Bee’s Wrap, or even take out containers from restaurants (Stasher bags are our favorite!).
3. Say NO to straws or bring your own reusable one. Not only are plastic straws not recyclable, they are detrimental to our oceans and marine wildlife!
4. Avoid plastic bags at your local grocery store by bringing your own.
5. Wear a reusable, washable mask and limit your use of latex gloves.
6. Pay close attention to the material of clothing you buy-- stray away from synthetic fabrics such as polyester, nylon, and acrylic and go for all-natural fibers!
7. Try out solid household products like shampoo, conditioner, deodorant in non-plastic packaging, and laundry stain treatment.
8. Visit a household products or Organics food products refill store such as EcoNow, Ritual Refill, and Fill Up Buttercup. Find more on the Green Business website.
9. Skip the disposable razor and switch your plastic toothbrush for a wood one.
10. Use swabs with cardboard and reusable floss holders instead of single use picks.
11. Support restaurants that have pledged to reduce their plastic use such as those certified through the CA Green Business Network and Surfrider Ocean Friendly Restaurant program.
12. When buying products at the store, select products in eco-friendly packing or glass containers. Reuse your clean jars to store food items and other essentials.

Remember: Be thoughtful and forgiving of those who do not have the means to live plastic-free. In order to make positive change on our planet, we must work together. Prioritize progress over perfection.

Female-Only Scholarship Awards in 2027 May be Affected by Federal Government's New Definition of Discrimination

IMPORTANT! PLEASE READ!

The federal government is challenging public institutions over their new interpretation of discrimination. This is true at the college level presently, and may affect our AAUW branch's scholarship awards in 2027, because the possibility now exists that Golden West College may by then be required to include men as candidates to receive our AAUW scholarships. State law mandates that our AAUW Branch Board and Scholarship Committee notify our members and endowment families of these changes, per California Government Code Section 12599.9, which regulates donations in our state.

HOW FED LAW HAS CHANGED:

At the federal level, Title IX of the Education Amendments became law in 1972, prohibiting gender-biased discrimination in the U.S., such that no person "shall be excluded from participation in or denied benefits of....any education program or activity receiving federal financial assistance". This plan for equity has recently been re-examined, and reinterpreted to include all genders, including men. This means that public institutions such as Golden West College can no longer comply with any group's request to award scholarships to women only.

WHAT GOLDEN WEST COLLEGE MUST DO:

GWC's scholarship rep explained that the federal government audited several local public colleges recently. The audit revealed that GWC receives scholarship funds from 9 groups requesting female-only recipients, including AAUW. Since AAUW is a private entity, we are legally allowed to make this request, because we are not federally funded. However, since GWC is a public entity receiving federal funds, they won't be allowed to comply with the female-only request from donors. GWC must instead award these funds to persons of any gender, including men, and violation of this rule could result in their loss of much needed federal funding. GWC even hired lawyers to challenge the issue, but the feds won.

WHAT WE CAN DO:

Since AAUW has awarded scholarships to women for over a century, we were very concerned about this change. We consulted AAUW at the state level for advice. We explained that our branch and endowment families have traditionally awarded GWC students who meet our criteria: Females who are returning students who maintain a "B" average GPA or higher, majoring in either nursing or education. AAUW California confirmed that we will in future have to remove only the "female" criteria, but suggested we replace this with "single parent in financial need," and that this strategy will most likely get our scholarship funds channeled to females only, without stating it as such. They let us know that this method has worked for local AAUW branches awarding scholarships to Saddleback College, Orange Coast College, and UCI. Although GWC will still retain the right to choose male scholarship recipients in 2027, we are told this will be unlikely.

GWC does not want to lose donors, and AAUW wants to maintain the right to award scholarships to women only, despite the federal pressure. Hopefully this will be a win-win. We don't want to lose a right AAUW has exercised for over 100 years.
